

(2) THE DOG AND HIS BONE

One day, a dog was walking home with a bone in his mouth.

2: Hello, Dog.

1: Hi, Bird.

On the way home, he met the bird.

2: What's up? You look very happy.

1: Yes, I am happy, I have a bone.

The dog was happy with what he had: a bone.

The dog walked to the edge of the river.

And looked down the water.

1: Look! That dog has a bone.

2: Wow, there are two dogs and two bones.

The dog wanted that bone, too.

1: Grrrr! I will get it.

2: Oh no! That's not a good idea.

As the dog opened his mouth. His bone fell out into the river.

And then---Splash!

He jumped into the water.

1: Where is my bone?

Where is that dog? Where is the bone?

2: Silly dog! You lost your bone. You have nothing to eat now.

The dog lost his bone. His bone went down the river.

1: I lost my bone. I want my bone back.

2: Dog, be happy with what you have next time.

We should always be happy with what we have.

(1) THE ANT AND THE DOVE

One day, an ant was very thirsty and went to the river to drink water.

1: I'm thirsty. I need some water.

And then he fell into the river.

1: Help! I can't swim!

A dove happened to fly by and saw the ant.

1: Help! Help!

2: I will help, Ant!

The dove put a leaf on the water.

2: Grab the leaf, Ant!

The ant climbed onto the leaf and was safe.

1: Thank you for helping me, Dove!

2: You are very small; you should be more careful.

The next day, the ant saw a man with a net.

3: I'm going on a hunt, a hunt, a hunt. Here I go.

The dove was sleeping in a tree.

The man was going to get the dove.

3: What a nice dove!

1: Oh no! The man has a net! He is going to get my friend!

The ant saw the man was going to get the dove.

The ant ran up the man's leg and bit him.

3: Ouch! An ant bit my leg.

The dove heard the man yell.

1: Fly, Dove! Fly away!

The dove woke up and flew away.

The man didn't get the dove.

2: Thank you for helping me, Ant.

1: You are welcome. You helped me last time. Friends help each other.

The dove helped the ant. The ant helped the dove.

3: We helped each other. Friends always help each other.
